Low Incidence Disabilities Endorsement and Master’s Program
LOW INCIDENCE SPECIAL EDUCATION

Graduate preparation focuses on:

- Meeting the educational needs of students with significant intellectual disabilities and students with multiple disabilities, including students on the autism spectrum with concurrent cognitive, sensory, and physical impairments.
- Strategies addressing the unique learning and support needs of students with significant needs.
- Strategies to promote access to the general curriculum for students with significant needs.
- Strategies for providing life skills and community-based instruction for students with significant needs.

To obtain a Special Education Low Incidence Endorsement, one must hold a current general education license (early childhood, elementary, or secondary).

Students can obtain a Master's degree or may study for endorsement only (non-degree).
